What's New this Week

This week we are reading Mrs. Brown Went to Town. It's a funny story with lots of rhyme. It also has lots of tricky words. Students may need some extra assistance while reading the story on Tuesday.

We are finishing up learning all the procedures for both Reader's and Math Workshop this week. Students now know all the choices during workshop time and how to work independently. I'm so proud of how hard they have been working! I will begin small group instruction next week.

Students have been learning all about plants in science. They made beautiful "pop-up plants" labeling a plant's life cycle. This week we will do an experiment with lima beans (examining, not eating).
